Headline:
Saturday largely dry with sunny spells. Showers possible across Kent.

Today:
Isolated mist and fog soon lifting, with variable cloud amounts and sunny spells following. Feeling warmer by afternoon. Much of Kent breezier, where cloud will thicken at times to give a few light showers. Maximum temperature 22 deg C (72 deg F).

Tonight:
Cloud thinning and breaking across much of the region with some long clear spells. Chance of a few showers continuing near Kent. Cloud probably increasing again later. Minimum temperature 9 deg C (48 deg F).

Sunday:
Rather cloudy start in places on Sunday before cloud thins and breaks to give some sunshine. Cooler near Kent coasts, where it will feel rather chilly with rain possible later. Maximum temperature 22 deg C (72 deg F).

Outlook for Monday to Wednesday:
Mainly fine weather continuing although rather cloudy with spots of rain or light showers possible towards Kent and London. Temperatures near normal for most.
